

Vendors looking for events and Events looking for vendors – a new service

A new matchmaking service from the publishers of NW Car Events Calendar

We have received so many requests for information about vendor opportunities that we have decided to provide a format for the exchange of this information.

Event managers – list your complete vendor opportunity information including links on our special webpage and we'll promote your event to vendors looking for opportunities to promote their business and products.

Vendors looking for new opportunities to expand your business and sales may list their biz info and what they are looking for on this same web page so that event managers and organizers can connect with you about their events.

The fee is $ 25.00 for listing for six months. No limit to number of words, but no graphics. Do provide your website, e-mail, and phone number within your listing so seekers can communicate with you directly.

We are only the messenger, so we will not take any responsibility for accuracy of the listings nor contracts between parties.

For more information, or to submit your listing, please write events@upfrontimages.com
